Thursday, October 15 – Sunday, October 18, 2020
Omni Shoreham Hotel – Washington, DC, USA

CALL FOR PAPERS

The 43rd Annual IAPSP International Conference: Freedom & Transformation: Opportunities & Challenges will be held in Washington, DC, USA, from Thursday, October 15 to Sunday, October 18, 2020. We invite you to join us in the historic city of Washington, DC, to explore together the role of freedom – personal, analytic, and political – both in and out of the clinical setting. What is freeing for patients, therapists, families, and communities and how might psychoanalysis, especially self psychology, contribute to a greater sense of freedom through creating opportunities for transformation?

- Personal freedom: Heinz Kohut viewed inner freedom as central to maintaining needed capacities for active creativity. We will examine this view and explore ways that the experience of inner freedom can be developed and fostered. We will also consider freedom and transformation in the context of personal trauma.

- Analytic freedom: Building on self psychology’s role in liberating psychoanalysis from the shackles of classical thinking, we will explore various forms of clinical freedom and how they may (or may not) lead to growth and transformation. We will take up the challenge of identifying those clinical constraints needed to safeguard the patient, the therapist, and the integrity of the clinical process. We will consider how to promote free expression of ideas in analytic institutions, training programs, and organizations, including our own.

- Political and societal freedom: How might psychoanalysis contribute to human security and to personal and societal transformation around the world? Given the current global concerns, we will continue the evolving dialogue about how our thinking can apply outside the clinical setting. We will focus on understanding and supporting worldwide struggles for freedom, opposing the repression of dissent, facing the climate crisis, and freeing ourselves to the extent we can from the tendency to “other” those who differ from us in appearance, identity or perspective.

Washington DC is an ideal location to center our explorations. As the nation’s capital, it stands as a symbol of freedom, yet it is a city that continually grapples with political, societal, and emotional challenges to its historic ideals. We look forward to welcoming you to the 2020 IAPSP Conference and to our diverse, stimulating, and supportive international learning community. Join us for what promises to be a clinically relevant, enriching educational experience and to feel at home in our vibrant, supportive international community. Small discussion groups led by seasoned clinicians follow each plenary, offering the opportunity to discuss thoughts, ideas and questions in an intimate and supportive setting. There will also be Workshops and Original Paper Presentations.

IAPSP invites all interested professionals to submit papers to be considered for inclusion in the Original Paper Sessions at this conference. You must be a member of IAPSP to present at the conference. Papers must be relevant to Self Psychology and Psychoanalysis, the conference theme, and submitted in English. These paper sessions are scheduled for 1.5 hours, which will include the actual presentation and a discussion by a faculty member and the audience. Paper submissions may be up to 15 pages, double-spaced, with the font to be no smaller than 12 point, with 1 ¼ inch margins on all four sides, and approximately 3,600 words. If your paper is accepted, we will ask that the final presentation be limited to 25-30 minutes.

 SUBMISSION PROCESS ***

The deadline for submitting your paper is Monday, March 9, 2020. No names are to appear on your paper. You may send your submission as an email attachment ONLY to: admin@iapsp.org. In addition to your paper, please submit the following: Call for Papers Cover Sheet (electronic version available at www.iapsp.org). Please complete a coversheet per author.

1. One Paragraph Abstract AND Three Learning Objective for your presentation (“At the conclusion of my presentation, the participant will be able to: (verbs to use: list, describe, recite, write, compute, discuss, explain, predict, apply, demonstrate, prepare, use, analyze, design, select, utilize, compile, create, plan, revise, assess, compare, rate, critique). Items should be on the same page and must be typed.

2. Curriculum Vitae AND a one-paragraph Biography of your current professional work.

Due to continuing education application requirements, all of these materials must be submitted in order for your paper to be reviewed. We regret that papers submitted without all of the above items cannot be considered for review. Authors will be notified of the Paper Committee’s decision by May 2020. Paper sessions are limited by space availability. Should your paper be accepted, you will need to register for the conference and be a member of IAPSP in order to present your paper. Conference Registration is not complimentary for paper presenters.
CALL FOR PAPERS COVERSHEET

Please print or type. If more than one presenter, please provide the following information for all authors in separate cover sheets.

Name of Author: ___________________________ Degree: ___________________________

Address: ___________________________

City: ___________________________ State: ___________________________ Zip: ___________________________

Daytime Phone: (____) Fax Number: (____)

E-mail Address: ___________________________

Title of Paper(s): ___________________________

Deadline for receipt of papers: Monday, March 9, 2020

I have enclosed the following items (DO NOT MAIL YOUR CALL FOR PAPERS MATERIAL):

• Paper – (Send Electronically to admin@iapsp.org). No names are to appear on your paper. Your paper submission should be completely anonymous.

• One paragraph abstract of presentation and two-three learning objective (typed on one page) – (Send Electronically to admin@iapsp.org)

• Curriculum Vitae AND one-paragraph Biography– (Send Electronically to admin@iapsp.org)

Should your paper be accepted, you will need to register for the conference and be a member of IAPSP in order to present your paper. Conference Registration is not complimentary for paper presenters.

Submit to:

Kathy Wetmore
Email: admin@iapsp.org