

Amy Eldridge, PhD is President of the International Association of Psychoanalytic Self Psychology and Dean Emerita of the Institute for Clinical Social Work. She has a psychotherapy practice with adults, adolescents and children in downtown Chicago and more recently, in Asheville NC. She also consults on clinical practice, training and leadership issues. Dr. Eldridge is on the editorial boards of Psychoanalytic Inquiry and the Psychoanalytic Social Work Journal, and is the author of numerous published papers on clinical practice.