LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

The conference is organized to facilitate maximum opportunity for questions, comments and dialogue between the audience and the presenters.

At the conclusion of this conference, the participant will be able to:

1. Explain the proposed expansions or revisions of the core self-psychological concepts of empathy, selfobject experience and permeable boundaries.
2. Illustrate the proposed revisions of each of these concepts with a clinical example.
3. Describe the impact of racial discrimination and social injustice and how these can intersect with developmental trauma and selfobject failures.
4. Give examples of how therapists/analysts can talk with patients about the impact of sociocultural trauma and its overlap with other developmental trauma.
5. Explain how non-psychoanalytic treatment methods such as guided imagery, expressive arts and harm reduction methods can be integrated within an overall self-psychological treatment approach.
6. Give examples that illustrate the use of such treatment methods in a fundamentally psychoanalytic treatment.
